UNICEF 'Trick-Or-Treaters' To Canvass This Week-End

Agawam "Trick-or-Treaters" will go out for UNICEF this Halloween Mrs. James Sgorbati, Town chairman, has announced.

Church groups from Agawam Baptist, Agawam Congregational, Agawam Methodist, St. David's Episcopal, St. Anthony's of Padua, St. Theresa's, St. John's, Sacred Heart, and Valley Community will at different times be collecting. Because of overlapping of territory more than one youngster may call upon you.

If you wish to contribute to UNICEF set aside the amount in change you wish to donate so that every youngster may collect a little and later arrivals will not be disappointed. Collecting will start this week-end and end Halloween night.

Anyone wishing cartons for collecting may pick them up at 1822 Main St., any time through Oct. 30. Cartons may be returned to Union Federal Savings and Loan on Main St., Springfield, Halloween night or Sunday, Nov. 5, or to Mrs. James Sgorbati, 1822 Main St., Agawam Halloween night where each "Trick-or-

HAROLD E. WALKER

Harold E. Walker, Republican nominee for the three year term on the Board of Public Welfare, says, "I have served the Town Government of Agawam for the past 20 years. It has always been a pleasure to do so. Now, I have decided to run for the position on the Board of Public Welfare as I feel it will be a furthering or broadening of my past work in serving the people of Agawam."

In the capacity of these two committees I have worked closely with the Board of Selectmen, the Town Department of Public Works, and the School Committee.

"May I look forward to receiving your vote on Election Day, Nov. 21, 1967?"

Vigneaux Candidate For Assessor's Post

WILLIAM VIGNEAUX

William E. Vigneaux, today, announced his candidacy for the office of Assessor (on the Republican ticket) in the town of Agawam.

The decision to seek this office was made, only after a number of townspeople urged him to do so. He has an extensive civic background having served the town on many important committees including a term as selectman.

His knowledge of construction of every kind over the past years puts him in a position to place a fair value on every kind of building.

Mr. Vigneaux is now retired and he feels that he has the time to give to this important part of our town government. In making this decision, he asks the voters to give him their consideration when they vote, and if elected they can depend on him to be available at all times and to answer any questions they may have pertaining to the office.

Mr. Vigneaux has resided in Agawam for 43 years. He has served on the Zoning Commission and Planning Board for eight years. Also, Chairman Granger School Building Committee, Member High School Building Committee, Member Housing Authority-5 years, Past Town Meeting Member, 6 years and Selectman-3 years.

I Believe . . .

by GEORGE L. REYNOLDS—Candidate for Selectman

I believe the most rewarding and beneficial trips most of us have taken, have been well planned. Such planning might involve the service of an agency or just a study of road maps.

In just a few weeks, you as a voter, will be expected to plan a three year trip with one of three selectmen candidates. For a successful trek would it not be wise to study a political road map? For sure there is usually more than one route to a distant point. The one you select should not be encumbered with detours, an unsound roadbed, high tolls, or other similar pitfalls.

UNICEF — The Great Challenge

In December of this year, UNICEF, the United Nations Children's Fund, becomes twenty-one years old. It has, in twenty-one years, changed from a temporary, emergency effort aimed at the relief of children in war-torn countries to a permanent program of assistance to the children of the world's developing areas. UNICEF today helps 120 nations and territories to serve their youth, through assistance in the fields of health, nutrition, education, and social services.

The countries UNICEF assists in Asia, Africa, Latin America and the Middle East are faced with a wide range of problems and challenges. They must cope with the urgent need for change on many fronts. Development of agriculture, industry, trade and education must proceed rapidly. Their problems affect especially the youngest in their population. As estimated 300 million children in the developing countries suffer from malnutrition. The chances that infants and children can receive medical attention are slim. Only about 5 percent of the rural children come in contact with any health service. Only two-fifths of the school age children complete primary school, and a much smaller percentage go on to secondary school.

AMERICANS HELPFUL

As it reaches a major point in its growth, UNICEF seeks to assist countries in ways that will multiply and to give the creative help that will serve more and more children throughout the world.

American boys and girls are instrumental in promoting such vital work. Ever since 1950, they have devoted their traditional Halloween fun to a Trick or Treat collection on behalf of their less fortunate counterparts overseas. From initial proceeds of $17.00, this program resulted in a whopping contribution of over $2.7 million to UNICEF in 1966.

This year again, it is expected that Trick or Treat for UNICEF in more than 13,000 American communities will bring about substantial help for needy children and mothers in areas of the world where hunger, disease and misery are their constant companions.

City Saves on Prayers

Charleston, W. Va.

Charleston paid $225 for prayers last fiscal year.

The city's financial report shows that the city government paid $12.50 each for 18 prayers at City Council meetings during the 12-month period.

A total of 24 council meetings are held in a year—which indicates that six sessions either had no prayers or that a half-dozen ministers refused to accept the fee they are paid for praying.

Cauliflower

Queen of the cabbage family—that's cauliflower, a delicious vegetable that is perhaps not as fully appreciated as it might be.

Cauliflower is properly cooked in a small amount of boiling salted water. If a milder flavor is desired, cook the cauliflower uncovered in a moderate amount of water. Overcooking or holding at a high temperature also will cause the cauliflower to discolor and develop a strong odor and flavor.

V.F.W. Post 1632 and Auxiliary Bulletin

By ANNA D. BISSONNETTE

Oct. 16, At this meeting the men decided that they will hold a Christmas Party for the children with Commander Adelman as Chairman.

This meeting was visited by District #7 Commander Bernard F. McGuiness and S. Bruce Sheffield, chairman of Post #70 Board of Trustees. After our prominent guests signed the guest book, Commander McGuiness praised the Senior Vice-Commander, Ed Harpin for the manner in which the meeting was conducted and the men for the attendance and interest they showed. Praise goes to Junior Vice-Commander Netkovick for driving all the way down from Vermont to attend this meeting to discuss plans for building the pavilion.

MUMS BLOOMING — MEMBERSHIP ZOOMING

Commander McGuiness also gave much credit to QM Wilfred Bissonnette for having 40 per cent of the membership for 1968. DID YOU KNOW THAT . . . a beautiful perpetual charter will be awarded to any Veteran of Foreign Wars Post having a total of 25 or more "Life Members?" "WIVES, MOTHERS, SISTERS, STEP-SISTERS and DAUGHTERS," said QM Bissonnette, "these make wonderful Christmas gifts to the men in your lives." Professional men should be much interested in this theme. So come on YOU—DOCTORS, LAWYERS and INDIAN CHIEFS—call QM Bissonnette TODAY and ASK how a life membership can help you! Just imagine, you will never forget to pay your dues! They just go on and on even if you move to another part of the country.

THIS N' THAT

1—Seen at the American Legion #185 and Auxiliary installation last Friday were James Stellato, Ed Harpin and Gus Hocker.

2—Lucky this past week were Donald Curran, William Deforge, Past Commander Brady Snyder, and Katy Dickinson.

3—We said "Good-bye and have a good time" to Pat and Norm Wood who left for ten (10) days at Montego Bay, Jamaica. While there they plan to visit the 7½ million dollar Playboy Club. Have a good time folks but save enough to get home on!

4—First of the Turkey shoots was held on Sunday, Oct. 22, with Commander Adelman and Ed Netkovick in charge. Lucky were Rocky Stellato (2), Vitale Sanchez (2), and Madeline Necci. Many arrived too late in the afternoon, PLEASE remember it starts at 1:30 p.m. next Sunday. Although I fanned the score card with the breeze, I enjoyed it immensely. See you there?

5—Be a friendly recruiter collect your neighbor's dues!!

SAVE A DATE

Oct. 28, Saturday—Post Clean Up Day starting at 1 p.m. We need help to clean the grounds. Please come and bring your own equipment. SPORTSMEN'S CORNER

By BILL CHIBA

WEST FAIRLEE, Vt.—When Chips, my son, Leon Glidden, Agawam plumber, and I arrived at Moe and Margaret Eaton's farm Friday night, 13th of Oct., the house was jumping. Gear was being stored in the various rooms, coffee was being poured freely, the rasping sound of a file could be heard now and then above the din as arrows were being sharpened for the hunt opening day. Yes, the bow season for hunting deer was in session Saturday, the 14th.

Greeting us as we arrived were Noel Brown and his son Bob, Doug Kerr, Ted Cesar, with Bill Spear arriving the second weekend, all from Feeding Hills. George Busier and his son, Mike, arrived with Fran Slisinski from Westfield, Mass., Joe Fujyczek, Holyoke, and Bernie Guenette, police officer, from West Springfield. Larry Fountain missed the first day of hunting because of a wedding. He made it up Sunday with a new Ford Bronco. Just what we needed for the abandoned roads in the area.

Joe Fujyczek was the only bowhunter to score on the first weekend. He bagged a medium size doe. Every one in the woods had shots at deer but no one but Joe connected. I think my son, Chips, must of fired at least a dozen times the first two days without a hit.

Leon, the friendly plumber, kept the home fires burning and accompanied Margaret on her many trips from the farm. I always looked forward to meeting the smiling face of Leon's when dragging in from a hard day's hunt. "Well, how many have you hung up today?" Leon wanted to know. When you replied that they were still running or that very few deer had been encountered Leon's barb rolled off so naturally, "Seen eight or nine in the fields this afternoon when Margaret and I drove over to Bloody Brook could have hit them with a sling shot!" What do you do with a guy like that?

All week, situation after situation, favored the wily deer as far as I was concerned. I lost count on how many times a deer caught me unawares and I felt very foolish having to just stare hopelessly while the deer snorted in alarm (sometimes I think it was in disgust) and darted off to other parts of the woods. . . nothing seemed to go right. For example: Dropped the thermos bottle and scared two years off of two large fat does; stood up suddenly and the stool I was setting on fell over and spooked the deer before I could get a shot at it; had a large buck come in to the tree stand I was in, turned my body around so as to be in a position for a shot and had the buck change his mind and walk in back of me not 12 feet away . . . all I could do was twist my head and watch. This happened two afternoons in a row, must be some kind of a record. All the while Chips was shooting and missing.

Larry did not get a shot and had to leave Wednesday night to attend to business appointments. He thought that he might make it back for the week-end. However, he failed to show.

Chips has been hunting for deer with the bow since he was 10-years old, and has batted zero for 10-years. The jinx was broken Saturday afternoon. He shot a doe and had it hanging when I arrived in from a very frustrating afternoon. My spirits picked up immediately upon looking into his radiant face. That moment was worth all the money in the world. He spent all morning building a blind in a location that he picked out after reading the deer signs, his efforts paid off. A doe came feeding down the hillside and along side of the blind. Chips first arrow was a complete miss. The deer bounded back up the hill. Chips placed another arrow in the bow and vehemently vowed that the next shot was going home. The deer cautiously retraced its steps down the hill and this time the arrow found its mark. The animal traveled about 40 yards and dropped.

The pressure was on. Here it was Sunday afternoon and I had only till twelve noon to hunt before packing up and heading home. By nine in the morning, I had convinced myself that this year was going to be fruitless. I left the blind I had built and decided to walk the top of the mountain ridge in hopes of meeting a deer that was on its way to bed down for the day. I discovered a heavy pine grove with wild apple trees scattered throughout the area. The first apple tree showed bear sign that wasn't to old. I figured that the bear might be in the thick undergrowth and proceeded very slowly placing one foot after the other gently on the wet leaves and grass. I stopped in the middle of the grove to wait for a while. Suddenly the hair on the back of my neck stood out straight, an eerie meow emanated directly in front of me. The brown grass started to move and I spied a small bob cat making its way away from me on an angle. I pulled up the bow, for here was $10.00 on the hoof, so to speak, and followed the cat in hopes of finding an opening in the brush before letting the arrow go. To my amazement! I am looking a deer right in the face. I forgot the cat and shafted the deer. I don't know what happened to the cat because I followed the flight of the deer and watched where it lay down. Yes it certainly feels wonderful . . . father and son combine to bring home the venison.

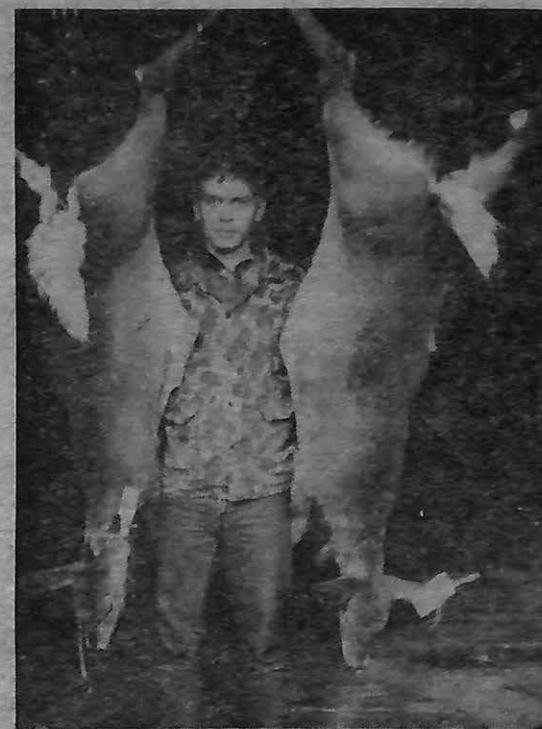

The Agawam Sportsmen Club hosted 12 rounds and 2 Grand Slams at their turkey shoot Sunday. The winners are: R. Houle, Jack Springer, Don Catchpaugh, Mr. Schibel, Chick Basile, Frank Dunn, Jack Hoagley, Frank Magnani, E. Reid, J. Sherman, and J. Goda. Houle and Goda also won the Grand Slams. Next Sun-

SEASONS CHANGE

Where once the rubber cleats were worn;

Where once the cover on the ball was torn;

Where once the echos of cheers resound

Where once the ball sailed o'er the ground —

Silence.
Where once a lithesome figure tugged at his cap
Before giving the ball a vicious rap;

Where once a chubby-runner slid into base,

And happily wiped the dirt from his face.

Silence.
The coloured leaves drift o'er the field

The tall grasses rustle and sway;

The snow fence sags by the corner post;

Abandoned candy-wrappers flutter and fly away . . .

Now that Baseball season's o'er
Let's open Football Season's door!

Hunters . . .Look Again Before Firing

This article is aimed directly at the hundreds of thousands of hunters who are taking to the fields and woods this fall in search of game.

Before you pull the trigger, know what you're firing at.

Spitting arms, from a single-shot .22 calibre rifle to a heavy big game weapon to a fast-shooting automatic shotgun, are designed to kill birds and animals. They also can kill or wound humans.

Each fall several hundred hunters return from fall outings via hearse. Thousands of others return with a load of bird shot or a rifle bullet to be dug out. Behind almost every hunting accident is one cause: carelessness. The hunter who blazes away at everything that moves runs a big risk of bagging a fellow hunter.

Never cross over or through a fence or climb a tree with a loaded gun. It might fall and discharge. Unload first and reload after crossing. Don't shoot at a hard, flat surface. Ricochetting bullets can carry long distances with killing power.

Even a small bore rifle has considerable range. Know where your bullet will stop before pulling the trigger.

Keep guns away from children. Never leave a weapon unattended without unloading it. Store guns and ammunition beyond reach of youngsters, preferably under lock and key.

Always carry a gun so that you can control the direction of the muzzle even if you stumble. Keep the safety catch on until ready to shoot. Always be sure the barrel is clear of obstructions. A barrel clogged with mud or snow may burst.

Guns and alcohol don't mix. If you like a nip around camp, wait until you're through hunting for the day and all weapons are unloaded and cased.

Treat guns with respect at all times. They may be loaded, despite all precautions. Thus never point a weapon at something unless you plan to shoot it.

Cranberry Doughnut Puffs

½ cup halved fresh cranberries, ¼ cup sugar, 1 pkg. prepared refrigerator biscuits.

Combine cranberries and sugar. Allow to stand at least 2 hours, or overnight to sweeten the berries. Cut each biscuit round into quarters. Pull, flatten and round each quarter by hand and put several sugared berry halves in the center. Seal by pinching dough edges together to form small puff balls. Fry in 1-½ inches hot fat (370 degrees F.), turning puffs to brown on both sides. Drain on absorbent paper and roll in sugar-cinnamon mixture. Package makes 40 puffs.

SQUARE DANCE

Beryl & Doug Shaylor

Hi Squares:

We're "filling-in" this week for a mighty hardworking couple who have gone to the "Cape" for a few days. Doug and Beryl Shaylor will be back in time for our dance tomorrow and we hope they won't be too disappointed with our efforts in their behalf. We also hope they won't try the ocean. Brrrrrrrr!

We have only one very important message to get across to all you dancers this week, whether you are "steady-goers" or "once-in-a-whilers."

The caller who will be on stage at Robinson Park School tomorrow evening, is a guest we've heard several times before and is quite a "crowd-pleaser." That is one of the reasons we feel you will LOVE DICK DAVIS!

Another and more important reason is the kind of calling he will be doing. He will be calling a "Dance of the Fifties" which means he will be taking a bit slower beat and using a good many of the calls, singing and otherwise, that were the "rage" back in the fifties, (probably about the time a lot of you were really hitting your square-dancing stride.)

The obvious reason for having this kind of dance is to draw all you loafers out away from the "sleepy-chair" and the fire-side and help you remember what a lot of fun you used to have square-dancing! From all reports, it would seem that the idea is catching on all over the country, and a lot of very good folks are coming back to dances and loving it. If we see proof enough of this, we are going to be rooting for more of the same. So, come on out and help us prove we can still dance up a storm!!

Refreshments will be in order at the usual time and place and we think you'll be greeting a great many of your old "buddies" over the coffee cups.

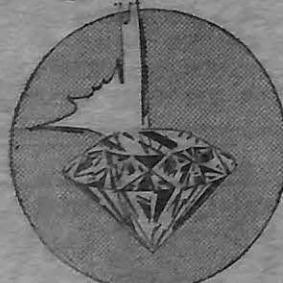

Here's hoping we'll have the pleasure of your company—at 8 p.m., when we "SQUARE UP!"

Bye for now . . .

SPORTSMAN'S CORNER

by Clark Webster,
Remington Wild Life Expert

Dad—On Target

Back in the days when Daniel Boone and Davy Crockett were helping carve a nation out of the wilderness, family "togetherness" wasn't an advertising slogan, but a way of life. As they farmed, scouted, and hunted together, the pioneer father and son developed the kind of deep camaraderie that is so rare today.

Today, parents and children hardly ever share the same close companionship of that slower paced era. Frequently you'll hear the father of a modern teen-ager say wistfully, "I just can't reach him any more." Nor is this very surprising. As boys grow older, they enter a new world of their own. Playing in Saturday's sandlot game or making the high school football team is certainly more exciting—and more challenging than a session of backyard catch with Dad.

Can you hold on to him? Yes, if you take a tip from fathers of the past and include him in a sport where Dad is—and will remain—the accepted leader for many years to come. And no sport fills the bill so well as hunting—a part of every boy's love of the Great Outdoors, a part of every youngster's American heritage.

Introduce your son to this fascinating world while he's still small. As he listens to the staccato notes of the woodpecker, feels the nip of an early morning chill, watches a pair of squirrels scavenging for nuts, he will be learning about the combination of beauty and harsh struggle for survival that is Nature.

Once he understands the principles of sportsmanship and conservation, it's time to begin teaching him how to shoot. An excellent gun for this purpose is a single shot 22 caliber rifle, such as Remington's Model 580 bolt action rifle—especially suited for the novice. With your guidance, and practice at one of the local shooting ranges, your son marks his entry into the world of the adult—the world of his father. Don't miss the opportunity of crossing this frontier with him.

If your hand slips and too much salt gets in the vegetables while cooking, add vinegar and sugar a teaspoon at a time until the salty flavor disappears.

Newsboy Asks Horse Waiver

Virginia City, Nev.

A Virginia City ordinance banning horses from streets in this historic Comstock boom town may be repealed to permit a 14-year-old boy to deliver his newspapers.

District Attorney Robert Schouweiler says the county commission is considering repealing the ordinance.

Gordon Barkley Jr., who delivers Reno newspapers on horseback, went to court to have the ordinance repealed. He obtained a temporary injunction permitting him to ride his mare, Lady through Virginia City streets.

Young Barkley had argued that the ordinance threatened to put him out of business because the mare was his only means of delivering newspapers along his mountainside route.

Mr. Schouweiler said Oct. 14 the commission did not want to hamper the boy's job.

EUGENE H. LUND
Director of Veterans Services

Veterans of Viet-Nam and all servicemen recently separated from active duty are reminded by the Veterans Administration of the right to apply for an individual life insurance policy within 120 days after separation from service.

More than 99 per cent of the servicemen participate in the Servicemen's Group Life Insurance program and are eligible to convert to private insurance when they are discharged. Veterans are covered by the group policy for 120 days after separation, without further payment of premiums.

During the 120-day post-separation period any insured veteran may apply for an individual life insurance policy from any of the 540 participating insurance companies without taking a physical examination, VA explained.

Western Bank Quarterly Report

William A. Franks, Jr., president of Western Bank and Trust Company, reported today that the bank's assets on September 30 were $5,858,188, an increase in excess of $1.1 million over September 30, 1966.

The current assets figure, Mr. Franks said, is approaching $6.3 million, "indicative of the continued growth that Western Bank is experiencing."

Mr. Franks said total income for the first nine months of this year was $265,747, compared with $209,766 during the first three quarters of last year.

Deposits on September 30 of this year were $4.8 million, for a gain of more than $1 million over the same date in 1966.

Loans outstanding totaled $3,631,000, compared with the loan total of $2,787,422 on September 30, 1966.

"This year, our fifth anniversary year, is being characterized by the same fine public acceptance that began with our organization. We are moving ahead in all areas, and our Riverdale office is contributing significantly to our progress."

TV GUIDE NEWS

FREE CHOICE

RADNOR, Pa. — One of television's funniest couples, "He & She," turn in some zany antics off-screen too, where they're Mr. and Mrs. Richard Benjamin. Recalling a recent incident in Paris, Benjamin told TV Guide: "We were in the Louvre and Paula went to the ladies' room. In a minute she was back asking for a libre. I asked her why and she said, 'To pay for the ladies' room.' I didn't have the strength to say libre on the door meant free."

TV GUIDELINE

Mario Thomas, television's "That Girl," was filming in Philadelphia recently when she was recognized by a bystander: "I know her. That's what's-her-name, what's-his-name's daughter. She's on what's-it-called."

ANYTHING TO PLEASE

RADNOR, Pa. — Like most celebrities, Johnny Carson frequently receives autograph requests. He told TV Guide about some of them: "Did you ever watch some of these autograph seekers? May I have your autograph?" "Sure, kid! Do you have a pencil?" "Well, no, I don't." "Well, here, we'll use mine. Got a piece of paper?" "Hey, Harvey! Got a piece of paper?" Recently, a woman in a Las Vegas night-club asked him, "May I take your picture?" "Go ahead," said Carson. Then she retorted, "Do you have a flash bulb?"

ROYAL TREATMENT

RADNOR, Pa. — Hedley Mattingly, "Daktari's" British ranger, once performed before the Royal Family, and he told TV Guide about encountering Noel Coward at the post-play reception: "... the Duke of Gloucester and I walked together toward the exit ... when we came upon Noel Coward, bowing to each royal personage that left. I saw him hesitate when he saw me with the Duke. I could just imagine that he was thinking, 'Is this blighter royalty?' He decided not to take a chance and bowed to me after he bowed to the Duke—probably the only time Noel Coward ever bowed to another actor."

TV GUIDELINE

Coleen Gray, of television's "Days of Our Lives," once wanted to do a film for another studio when she was under contract to 20th Century Fox. She told TV Guide how she asked Fox's top man, Daryl F. Zanuck, to agree: "Mr. Zanuck, we're both from Nebraska — you're from Wahoo and I'm from Staplehurst. I think you should let me do the picture."

Soviets Build New Telescope

Leningrad, U.S.S.R.

The world's largest telescope, said to be capable of sighting a candle flame at 15,500 miles, is under construction in Leningrad, the Soviet news agency Tass reports. It said the reflector measures 236.22 inches, or 36.33 inches more than the scope on Mount Palomar in southern California.

Pumpkin

Burnished red and gold leaves, bright blue skies, crisp new apples, cider, and fat round pumpkins all belong to the early fall season. Could a fall party be complete without a pumpkin pie? And what would Halloween be without a jack-o'-lantern?

Choose the fresh pumpkin the same way as you would winter squash, looking for a firm hard rind and a heavy weight in relation to size. One pound of the fresh vegetable will yield about one cup of mashed pumpkin.

On Halloween some 3.5 million American boys and girls will become goodwill ambassadors when they Trick or Treat for UNICEF and save other children's lives.

HALLOWEEN

Halloween like many of our other holidays comes down to us from pagan times, modified by observances of the Christian church. Our modern celebrations bear traces of the customs which surround the festival in different parts of the world in different eras. Although we no longer believe in the old pagan rituals and superstitions, they still give rise to many of our present day Halloween customs. They suggest endless possibilities for pranks and parties on this gayest night of our holiday calendar.

If you're thinking of entertaining this Halloween, bring on your spooks! It is a time for parties where weird and exciting things happen. Children will go where they have the best time, so if your party is to be the talk of the neighborhood, you may be sure they'll prefer that to trick and treating.
